To the Faculty

When we venture out on Life's highway,
Whatever we do or try,
There are some who have helped us accomplish
Great things before we die.

They have helped us with our burdens;
They have comforted us in our trials;
They have inspired us to gain the knowledge
That leads us along Life's miles.

If someday in the years to come,
Children read of your name,
Your teachers have helped to carve it
In that wonderful hall of fame.

So here's to our dear old faculty!
May their reward be bright,
And may we always remember and praise them,
Though we climb the greatest height.

SENIORS

The Threshold

Over the threshold we come and go;
Our classmates and the friends we know;
And we gaily laugh as we leave the door,
Not thinking that we will come no more.

Over the threshold—and as we pass
Many a happy lad and lass,
May we all look back to dear Philly High
And say to her our last fond good-bye.

Over the threshold carved in stone
You can see the footsteps of those we've known;
May our marks be left beside those gone before,
There beneath that wide open door.

Mildred Thompson, '30

Class Poem

On memory's wall hangs a picture,
Hung there by chords of time;
'Tis a picture of happy schooldays,
Of a class so great and fine.

Then the vision grows clearer,
And familiar faces appear;
These seem to be those of our teachers,
Most plainly those of our Senior year.

Then I pause for a moment to think,
Of the friendships made at "Phila High,"
Then a feeling of longing comes o'er me
To be back in the days gone by.

Oh class of nineteen thirty!
Let come and go what may,
But let us keep that picture
Unblemished, all through life's way.

RUSSELL SNYDER

"Russ" is one of the few quiet boys; but Sunny has found his worth in the minstrel.

MARY PRISCILLA GLAUSER

Mary's brain must be very large, as she has stored away so much knowledge. Her grade card looks like a field of 90's. With Bill and her music, she will have a bright future.

SAM BANKS

It is rumored that Sam is rather negligent in getting his lessons, but we are sure that this isn't so, because he works hard in the band and is always willing to do whatever he is asked.

MILDRED POLLOCK

Mildred is the girl with a friendly smile and helping hand, and we are sure the world holds something nice for her.

HELEN KATHRYN FORNEY

We have no adjectives which could describe "Kay." She has wonderful hair and a sweet disposition—owing to the present state of affairs. "Kay" is deciding to change her name from Forney to one beginning with R.

HOMER SCOTT

Although this unsophisticated youth is so quiet that one would hardly know he was around, he has made himself useful at N. P. H. S.

SARAH ROBY

"Sally" is the living example that "valuable things come in small packages." She is no doubt the tinst girl in our class, but she has received her full share of brains.

GEORGE MATHIAS

Here's Kaylor's old stand-by. Whenever Kaylor can't answer a question, he calls on George—and George never fails him!

MAXINE LAFFERTY

Maxine is one of the beauties of our class. Added to that is the fact that she is a member of the Honor Club, and so we predict a brilliant future for her.

CHARLES RUSSELL

Stop, Look, and Listen!—"Chuck" does every time he sees a "skirt" or hears a feminine voice, especially one. It was partly due to his acting that the Junior play was such a success.

HELEN WARNER

Helen is our idea of a perfect student. She always has her lessons very well, and yet she doesn't spend all her time studying. We predict that she will be a model school teacher.

JUNE MOSSHOLDER

"Juney" has in her possession the key to success,—a smile and a happy disposition. She is much admired and is always surrounded with a laughing group of friends.

SIBYL REESE

"Sib" is one of our cute happy-go-lucky girls. Her hobby seems to be dancing, and falling off swings—thus breaking her arm.

MARJORIE RICE

"Marj" is well known for her merry laugh. We are sure that such a good natured person is bound to succeed in whatever she undertakes.

ROYDEN MOORE

What will N. P. H. S. do without Royden! He is one of our few very talented people; he plays basketball, baseball, the trombone, sings, gets good grades, is good looking and is a fine actor. The best of luck, Royden!

MILDRED THOMPSON

"Tillie" is an ever-willing sport. We are not often privileged to be with Mildred in the evening, 'cause she is generally with a member of the class of '28.

WANDA TOPE

Wanda is one of the athletes of our class; she is full of pep, and also makes a good secretary, as has been proved this year.

ROBERT MILLER

"Bob" is a brilliant student—when he studies. His favorite occupation is getting his seat changed in the library, because he forgets and causes too much excitement.

RUTH POLLOCK

Ruth's stick-to-itiveness has made her a very creditable student. She is a quiet miss but has made many friends.

WILBUR LANDIS

Wilbur does not have much to say except when called on to recite. Although unassuming, he is liked by all who know him.

JOHN BEBOUT

An athlete, a fun-maker, an ardent follower of the "skirts." Really he is an all-around man. We think that he will be a second Charlie Chaplin.

MARY HORGER

Mollie is always ready to recite with seemingly little exertion. If working at Newberry's enables her to have such pretty clothes, I think the whole Senior Class will soon be rushing down to secure positions.

LINDSAY EDWARDS

The idea that a saxophone is a noisy instrument entirely left our mind after we heard Lindsay play. He is one of the best friends one can find.

MADGE THOMAS

No matter how things go, Madge is generally happy. Popular and pretty, she has gone through school with a merry step.

ROBERT TRUSTDORF

"Bob" is just the one to ask to do a favor. He is always smiling, ready, and willing. Although he doesn't pay much attention to the girls, quite a few ladies have been looking at him this year.

JULIA BLETTERER

Julia gets plenty of exercise walking to school. She has such a sweet smile and quiet manner that she has won a place in our school.

WILLIAM SULLIVAN

Our imagination has never risen to the point where we can imagine "Bill" as a desperate, secretive character. His personality shows that he is all to the good.

GEORGIANNA SCOTT

"Scotty" certainly gets full enjoyment out of life. She is always around when there is work to do and is more than willing to do her share.

JEANNE SOUERS

And here is Jeanne! She is an acknowledged leader in all activities, and her many talents will make her a valuable asset to Westleyan. Doubtless she will some day be the owner of a famous orchestra.

GEORGE MARSH

Individuality and an unusual sense of humor are a part of Marshy's "make up." He's played a large part in making our class a success. Much luck to you, "Marshy."

MARGARET GROSJEAN

"Peg" is known for many things—her ability to act, her good grades, her sweet personality, and last but not least, her "peddling" of chocolate bars every Wednesday.

KENNETH DOTTS

"Kenn" always manages to get good grades in every subject—especially chemistry. In the Junior play he showed what an excellent dean he would make.

DAVID HARRIS

"Dave" and his Cadillac are a welcome sight to quite a few girls. As a business man he can't be beat, as the football team and the Delphian have shown. Some of these days when we are ill, we will go to Dr. David to be cured.

BESSIE MACKINTOSH

Here's to the future Daniel Webster! "Bess" had the honor of being on the undefeated debate team this year. Besides getting good grades and being a general favorite, she is president of the G. R.'s, which accounts for her being so good, (?). Because she has hitched her wagon to a star, we know she will reach her goal.

JOE PRICE

Joe is very original in writing parodies and taking pictures. For this reason he is our snap shot editor. The good scrap page in the Delphian is a result of his efforts.

ANELITE SANDERS

Anelite is one of the few fortunate ones who are members of the Honor Club. We have never heard her grumble—maybe that is her secret.

MARIAN MOSHER

And here is Marianne! She is one of the most lovable girls in our class (several of the other sex are aware of that fact) and she has often entertained us with her saxophone.

ROBERT WELLING

Here is one of the talkative members of our class. He loves to tease the girls, especially Jeanne in sociology class. He never seems to worry about anything, yet he always arrives at his destination.

WILMA STEWART

Wilma's interest is centered around a certain young man. For this reason she doesn't pay much attention to us at school—but we understand, Wilma!

DAVID SPAHR

David may not be able to beat his teachers in class, but he certainly can in volleyball.

ELEANOR STOCKWELL FIEDLER

Here's to our Editor—the best ever! By her long list of activities we can see that she does many things well. Eleanor loves to have a good time, but her membership in the Honor Club for three years indicates that she likes to study too. And can she "lithp?"

JOHN STOLLER

John came to our school from Stonecreek this year, but for some unknown reason, he left us a few months ago we were mighty sorry to see him leave.

MARTHA WALKER

Martha is very fortunate as she gets a nice long ride every morning—from

Midvale. She certainly holds up the tradition of Midvale's girls. We are very glad that she is going to graduate in our class, as she fills a special niche.

CLANCY MERCER

Here's the little boy who cuts his r's so delightfully. He's loads of fun and does he love to argue! No doubt we will meet him in a few years giving soap-box orations on "Wine, Women, and Song."

JONAS ROHRBACH

"Jonie" is no doubt our most versatile athlete. He is an all around favorite. We certainly missed him the weeks he was absent because of illness. He seems to find Tuscarawas Avenue a very enjoyable street—we wonder why?

LORNA SOUTHARD

Lorna is our attractive blonde. She is just as sweet and nice as anyone you could find. We are sure no "little red school house" will claim her very long, because a big automobile will soon carry her away.

EARL FOUTZ

"Foutzie" is fortunate in having a marcel all of the time. The football team will certainly miss him next year. Earl should have a career as an actor—for instance being end man in a minstrel—where he can demonstrate his excellent talent in singing and dancing.

ANNA MAE MASON

Ann is an all-round business woman,—in bookkeeping, and in keeping her athletic friend in strict training.

VIRGINIA ROSCH

Everyone knows "Ginny" and her car. She is a general favorite and we all use her car as a taxi. "Ginny" is rather quiet but she is just the one to confide in if you are feeling blue.

PAUL ROTH

"Pinky" has the distinction of being the only red-headed man in our class. We generally associate a quick temper with red hair, but it is not so with Paul. You never see him angry, and he is never too busy to help a friend.

HELEN HOLMES

Helen has diligently pushed her way through N. P. H. S. Although she is rather unassuming, she has won many friends, especially a certain red-headed boy!!

GEORGE LIRGG

Since George made his debut in the '29 band minstrel, he has been one of our popular "little men." May his clarinet playing carry him to success.

ERSEL LEMASTERS

"Pooch" has the power to squelch every one by his sarcasm, even the faculty. No doubt he will be a successful lawyer, because all the women jurors, at least, will flock to his side at a single glance.

ELIZABETH MATTERN

Lizzy is rather quiet, and so many of us have never known her real worth, but we are sure that she will always come to the rescue when help is needed.

JAMES JOHNSON

"Jimmie" is a well known member of our class and had the honor of being on the champion volleyball team this year. Maybe he will some time be a great theater magnate, having gained so much experience from our own Opera House.

VIVIAN DENZER

No doubt "Viv" does enjoy working at Newberry's because a dark-haired floor-walker is generally in front of her counter. But no wonder, because everyone is subject to "Viv's" pep!

RUTH WHITMER

Ruth is a good athlete and we feel proud to have her in our class. We look forward to the time when she will help to bring us into prominence through her talents.

DONALD KNISELY

Only the teachers call him Donald; we call him "Don," and a right good fellow is he. Surely we will hear from him before many years have passed.

FREDA GINTZ

Just recently we found out that

"Fritz" was a peppy person for society, so we immediately put her on our social committee which she will help to make a success.

ROBERT RINEHART

"Bob" is an advocate of athletics, especially basketball. He was our indispensable captain this year. Bob is generally in the vicinity of locker 36—why?

PAUL JAVENS

Paul is one of those who "hides his light under a bushel." Only a few have learned to know him, but to those few he is one of the most useful fellows in the school.

STELLA JOHNSON

Stella is one of our good students who can be trusted with anything she undertakes. It would be a pleasure to have her as a secretary of any organization because her handwriting is so very beautiful.

ROBERT ALEXANDER

"Bob" isn't much for the ladies, but he seems to get along very well without them. He is one of the real stand-bys of N. P. H. S. as he has shown this year in basketball.

ANNA STEWART

Anna doesn't say much but her blue eyes speak for her. She doesn't shirk her studies although she often gives her undivided attention to a certain person (?).

HELEN WINKLER

There are those who have their lessons and those who have a good time. Here is one who always has both. She is a welcome addition on any committee and is always around at the right time.

THELMA LIGHTEL

Thelma is one of the quiet kind, meeting all her tasks with a resolution and cheerfulness which every one admires.

LUELLA MIZER

Luella also came from Stonecreek this year, but she has left us. We were sorry to see her go, because we miss her charming smile and pretty curly hair.

ELSIE MAE ENGLEHART

Johnny is a slave to Elsie's charms, but who wouldn't fall for such a pretty face and sweet voice?

FRANK BONNELL

Frank is one of our good natured boys. His aim after he leaves high school will be to forget his four years' course here. Although he is strongly opposed to undue mental exertion, he seems to be getting much pleasure out of H. S.

ORA SHIRLEY ADAMS

Ora does not talk a great deal, but we know that she will be successful in the future through her wonderful talent for drawing.

DAVID SHIVELY

By leaps and bounds Dave has won a high place in our class. Although we always thought he was not much for the girls, of late we are rather changing our minds. Some college will be glad to welcome Dave next year.

MARIE CASEBEER

"Casey" is a faithful and valuable member of the class of '30. She is thorough in work and in play. As a basketball player she's hard to beat.

ELLEN WENGER

Ellen is very dignified and just as reserved as a Senior lassie should be. We know she has worked hard and is very deserving of her diploma.

LUTHER LIMBAUGH

Luther drives a long distance every morning just to come to school, and his gray car is one of the familiar sights of our school. We are glad to have him as a member of our class.

EUNICE EVERETT

Eunice the silent—never saying much but always doing her part. We never hear Eunice grumble, which leads us to think that she has a pleasant disposition.

FRANK HOLLINGSWORTH

Frank is the "brainy" man of our class. Frank doesn't talk very often, but when he does—he always says something. He is a valuable asset to '30.

HAROLD STANSBURY

Harold seems to think that silence is golden, for he is very quiet about school. He is a good fellow to have for a friend, too.

LAURA STECHOW

Laura is a good student and has spent four successful years at N. P. H. S. No one can speak aught but good of her.

EARL MATHIAS

Anyone who has been to any of our games, knows that Earl is an excellent cheer-leader of the band. He will leave a vacant place in our school.

PEARL PUGH

Rae can do many things well. We hope she will take out insurance on her fingers as we prophesy that she will have a career as a typist or a violinist.

MARGARET OLIVE FICKES

Margaret is really a mystery to us 'cause she is so quiet, but at last we have found out her true worth, which is of the best.

MARIE TORGLER

Marie and Pearl are generally seen together, which leads us to believe that Marie is of a friendly disposition. With this and her efficiency she will make an excellent business-woman.

DOROTHY VOSHALL

Here's quality, not quantity. She has that faculty of not only enjoying a good time herself, but of making those around her enjoy it also.

CLARA SMITH

Clara doesn't study all of the time, but she studies enough to gain the reputation of being a good student. Clara is just the type to make a name for herself.

PAULINE SHAFFER

Who doesn't know Pauline's giggle? She blushes quite often but "red is the color of virtue," and Pauline's Waterloo is—history class!

GLEN LEGGETT

Small but mighty! Glen's permanent grin and his sense of humor are a part of his make-up. We are sure that the world will appreciate his good heart.

CATHERINE ELIZABETH CREAL

"Tommy" is another one of Sunny's famous band "boys" whom he will miss next year. She does not push herself forward, but is liked by everybody.

RUTH WITWER

Stonecreek certainly does produce good material, as Ruth has shown us. During her year in N. P. H. S. she has become well known because of her good grades and friendly manner.

KATHRYN DIENST

"Kate" just recently moved into the library, but the moment she arrived, things began to hum. Her pep and humor are a few of the things which contribute to her popularity.

EUGENE HARTMAN

Everyone delights in teasing Gene, especially Mr. Kaylor. Although this rather provokes Gene, he manages to smile and be friendly all of the time. We wish him success in his coming career.

EVELYN HEMINGER

Evelyn is one who treats friend and stranger alike. She always lets her smile speak for her. We know Evelyn will be very successful in the coming years.

LEONA PERKINS

Leona is one of our ever-ready girls. She is a friend of all because she never refuses to do a favor or any other little kindness. We wish there were more Leonas in our class.

MARY SCHWARTZ

Mary is very quiet and reserved; she also spends none of her time seeking masculine favor. And then, Mary is a worthy member of the famous Vergil Class.

HELEN JOHNSON

For some reason, Helen has always stayed in the background, but her friends tell us that she is a good sport and always dependable. We know that she is a staunch backer of N. P. H. S.

SENIOR WILL

Know all men by these presents: That we, Class of 1930, of New Philadelphia High School, in the County of Tuscarawas, and State of Ohio, considering the uncertainty of this high school life, and being of sound minds and good judgment, do make, and declare, and publish, this, our last will and testament, as follows:

First. We do give and bequeath to the Junior Class our dearly beloved old Library with its engraved seats and autographed walls as well as its most useful and decorated blackboard.

Second. We do bestow upon Tommy Douds a large portion of Ersel Lemasters' brain.

Third. To Abie Rolli, Jonie's wonderful ability as football captain.

Fourth. To Wendell Byrd, Dave Harris' ways with the women.

Fifth. To Chuck Gross, Earl Foutz's permanent wave.

Sixth. To Mary Caroline Graff, Chuck Russell's oratory.

Seventh. To Merle McCartney, Paul Roth's red hair.

Eighth. To J. K. Lawrence, Bob Welling's sense of humor.

Ninth. To Mary Jane Schneider, Mary Glauser's Vergil pony.

Tenth. To Don Gulbrandson, Royden Moore's dignified manner about the halls.

Eleventh. To Bob Coleman, George Marsh's light (in weight) feet.

Twelfth. To Anne Gross and Vivian Goulder, large amounts of Lorna Southard's quietness.

Thirteenth. To Edna Reese, Maxine Lafferty's figure (Geometry).

Fourteenth. To the Junior Class, the sophisticated air they must acquire to become successful Seniors.

Fifteenth. To the coming American History students we bestow a little good advice: learn how to "summarize", "analyze", "trace", and "give an account of" for this is the nature of Mr. Kaylor's Test Questions.

Sixteenth. To all the remaining high school students we grant the privilege of taking all chewing gum and of reading all notes found in the Library desks.

In testimony whereof, we have to this, our last will and testament, subscribed our name and affixed our seal, this thirty-first day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty.

Class of 1930

JUNIORS

An Admonition

O never fail to do your best
In north or south or east or west,
But strive ahead till day is done
And finish that which you've begun.
Some may laugh, some may jeer,
But turn to these a deafened ear;
At disadvantages do not shirk
But put your soul into your work,
And when you've done the best you can,
You've done your best to God and man.

Climbing

Step by step, day by day,
Ever climbing along the way.
If we should choose to cease the climb
And leave the chance of an intellect behind
Half the joy of all the world
Would be lost to the boy or girl.

The world thinks of no one else ;
Every man is for himself.
He must have a mind of his own.
And be able to stand alone
As the accomplished master mind
Because all people like his kind.

No one must give up the fight.
There is always a revealed light
To guide us on to the road of learning.
To the culture for which we are yearning.
When we are through we may sigh
And give thanks to dear old N. P. High.

FOOTBALL

Henry Craine
"Hank"
Coach

In his second year as head coach. Mr. Craine continued his good work. His football team was good. His basketball team was a little disappointing due to injuries but we still vote "yes" unanimously for "Hank."

David Harris
Manager

"Dave" and his assistants kept the stadium looking like the White House Lawn. His ready smile was a great help to the players and the coach alike.

REVIEW OF FOOTBALL STRUGGLES

DENNISON, 7—N. P. H. S., 21

The squad of thirty with seven lettermen made its initial appearance in new cardinal red and black uniforms. Our Quakers outplayed the veteran Dennison team in all our quarters. Dennison was given its touchdown on a misinterpretation of the rules.

TORONTO, 0—N. P. H. S., 13

Although handicapped by injuries and ineligibilities, the team outplayed their heavy opponents in every department of the game, thereby avenging last year's defeat.

EAST LIVERPOOL, 2—N. P. H. S., 7

More Revenge! East Liverpool expected to win easily but they lost—and how! The game was featured by long runs and passes by both teams.

COSHOCTON, 27—N. P. H. S., 0

Our first trip to a foreign stadium turned out disastrously. The two teams were considered to be evenly matched but Coshocton was "hot."

ORRVILLE, 7—N. P. H. S., 0

A pass in the third quarter and three blind officials ruined our first sight of Orrville's new stadium. When our team made a gain, presto! back came the ball. Why? No one knows but we do know that the game resembled a debate.

NEWCOMERSTOWN, 0—N. P. H. S., 25

Our team scored three touchdowns in the first five minutes of play and coasted through the rest of the game.

MASSILLON, 32—N. P. H. S., 7

The longer our team played, the better they got, but Massillon was just "too tough."

UHRICHSVILLE, 12—N. P. H. S., 12

This game resembled one of those movie thrillers. Both teams scored in the first few minutes of play. Uhrichsville scored again at the beginning of the second half. With four seconds to play Rohrbach caught a pass from W. Byrd and galloped fifty yards for the tying score.

SALEM, 27—N. P. H. S., 13

Our team fought wildly and outplayed Salem the entire second half. However, they couldn't overcome Salem's large lead.

DOVER, 0—N. P. H. S., 7

Earl Foutz intercepted a Dover pass in the first minute of play and dashed eighty yards for a touchdown. Later in the game there were several "breathtaking moments" when both teams threatened to score. But the gods willed otherwise; therefore, we have our revenge for last year's massacre.

INDIVIDUAL FOOTBALL WRITEUPS

- ROHRBACH—In his third and final year on the football varsity, Jonie was at his best. He was a brilliant player and as captain he inspired the team to greater efforts.
- TINKER—"Tink" finally became eligible and boy! what an end he made. That this is his last year must be very gratifying to the opposing teams.
- KISLIG—This was Max's first year on the Senior High team but he certainly was a tower of strength on one side of the line. Being a big boy, he should be a great help to the coach in the next two years.
- FOUTZ—This was "Foutzy's" second year in the backfield and he surely was "hot." He climaxed his career by winning the Dover game and we "love" him just for that.
- BEBOUT—This was "Beany's" second and final year at guard. He protected his position like a nurse and he never lost a patient.
- MARSH—"Marshy" plays football like he dances; all over the field at once. However, he is a good football player. We are sorry that this is his second and final year of competition.
- FRAZIER—"Dick" played a big game at tackle when he wasn't eating someplace. We might add that he is just as good at playing tackle as he is at eating; and that is saying something. We are glad that he has two more years with us.
- HAMMOND—"Bob" is left-handed and he surely can pull down runners. We expect next year will see him pulling them down with both hands.
- DOUDS—In his second year of varsity football "Tom" was greatly hindered by a broken collar bone. We know that next year he will make up for lost time by playing in his old form.
- HURST—When "Skipper" wasn't ineligible, he surely played great football. His towering stature will be greatly missed next year.
- FOWLER—Although this was Verne's first year he showed remarkable ability. When he played, the opposition had a tough afternoon. We certainly wish that he would be here again next year.
- GROSS—This was "Chuck's" second year and he played better than ever. He covered his end like a blanket and the way he caught passes is nobody's business.
- SWEANY—"Don" has red hair and that tells the whole story. However, we would like to add that he will be back next year bigger and better—if that is possible.
- BYRD—As was expected, "Windy" played just as well this year as he did last. He is our best triple-threat man and he should go great next year.
- MATHIAS—Earl's playing always reminded us of his big brother who also was a tough player. He was always in there fighting and he surely got results for his pains and bruises. We extend our sympathy to his opponents next year.
- ROSENBERRY—This was "Boots" first year but he played like a veteran. His passing back is good, and on defense he looks like the Rock of Gibraltar. We are glad that he is back with us next year.
- ROLLI—Although this was his first year out for varsity football, "Abie" made the team and starred consistently. Knowing "Abie" as we do, we congratulate next year's varsity on their splendid captain.
- HIXON—We heard that "Hicky" was a "wow" on the Junior High team. We know that he is as great on the Senior High team. He is small but mighty, and he certainly will be a big help in the next two years.

Rohrbach, Sweany Play Great Ball

Dover Opens Mean Aerial Attack

By GENE HURST

All hail the Red and Black—the Quaker gridders of New Philadelphia high school, that fighting, clawing vicious band of football men who yesterday afternoon crushed Dover high school at the fair grounds in Dover and battled their way to a tie for the 1929 high school football championship of Tuscarawas county.

Displaying that same drive which won for them a 12 to 12 draw with Uhrichsville high three weeks ago, Coach Henry Craines men did what was expected of them and swept aside the last obstacle in their path to a tie with the Uhrichsville gridders for the coveted county honors.

Ah, it was a great game—played amid all the splendor and color of a big college contest and before a crowd of thrill hungry fans numbering over 5,000 and the spoils, that came to that ravenous horde of Quakers after a battle which did not let up until the final whistle had been sounded.

It was a thrilling touchdown dash by the elusive Earl Foutz which took place just one minute and twenty seconds after the game started which proved the margin of victory. It was a run which will go down in the annals of Dover-Philadelphia football history as one of the greatest of all times. It was a gallop over eighty yards of dear old mother earth which brought the 5,000 fans to their feet and brought cheers and sobs from the opposing stands.

MOORE ROYDEN

Forward

"Roy"

"Roy" is the champion foul shooter and opera singer on the squad. He is constantly trying hard and according to the box scores, he gets results. He will be greatly missed next year.

ROHRBACH JONAS

Guard

"Jonie"

"Jonie" had rather tough luck this year. Although he was sick a large part of the season, when he did play, he certainly went "hot."

ALEXANDER ROBERT

Guard

"Alex"

Can this boy guard! "Alex" is one of the best men we have ever had. Sorry to see you leave, "Alex."

GROSS CHARLES

Center

"Chuck"

When it came to jumping, "Chuck" was right there. "Chuck" also was a good scorer. Next year he should be "great."

CRAINE, HENRY

Coach

"Hank"

Mr. Craine's basketball team was not as good as his football team this year, but this was due largely to injuries. With three letter men back next year the team ought to be great.

RHINEHART, ROBERT—Captain
Guard

"Bob"

"Bob" surely knows his stuff when it comes to playing basketball. He is the best defensive and offensive man we have. We're sorry to lose you, "Bob."

ROLLI, HAROLD

Forward

"Abie"

Can "Abie" sink 'em! Abie was our high scorer this year. He generally "sank 'em" when they were needed. Good luck next year.

BYRD WENDELL

Forward

"Windy"

"Windy" seems to be a natural-born basketball player. "Windy" is another dead shot. Good luck next year.

- CHARLES TRUSTDORF, "Chuck" (Captain).....Left Field
 A good player, a fine captain, a dandy fellow. These words describe one of '29's most popular members.
- WENDELL BYRD, "Windy".....Short-Stop
 "Windy" is a fast fielder with a strong arm. In the next two years, watch him step!
- JONAS ROHRBACH, "Jonie".....Second Base or Pitcher
 "Jonie" is plenty good either in the box or at second base. He ought to be better than ever next year.
- GEORGE ROSENBERRY, "Boots".....Right Field
 Besides being a good "fly snatcher", "Boots" was a slugger of no mean ability. This was his second year on the varsity and he has two more. Sweet words!
- EDWARD EICHEL, "Eddie".....Right Field
 "The Will Rogers of baseball." We are presenting Edward Eichel, one of the most persistent players on the squad. Too bad he will be elsewhere next year.
- ERSEL LEMASTERS, "Pooch" (Captain-elect).....First Baseman
 Besides being a good pitcher and first baseman, "Pooch" was our best hitter. He ought to go, great next year.
- FRANK BONNELL, "Bon Bon".....Second Base
 "Bon Bon" is the Lindbergh of baseball because he is always making flying catches. Next year will be his third and final year on the varsity nine.
- HAROLD BARTHALOW, "Bart".....Utility Man
 "Bart" was a great help last year. He could play any position "and how!". Too bad that he has left school.
- ROYDEN MOORE, "Lead Feet".....Third Base
 Batting in lead off position, "Lead Feet" always gave the opposing pitcher a warm reception. We are glad that he is back next year because he covers the hot corner like a blanket.
- HAROLD ROLLI, "Abie".....Catcher
 Although only a sophomore, "Abie" performed like a professional. His smart receiving, accurate throwing, and fighting spirit will be a great help during the next two seasons.
- CHARLES LEMASTERS, "Chuck".....Pitcher
 "Chuck" was our most effective pitcher. When he pitched 'em, they stayed pitched. He will be hard to beat during the next two years.
- PAUL WATKINS, "Whiskers".....Center Field
 "Whiskers" was truly the gods' gift to baseball coaches. He could field fast, and slug the ball without mercy. We are sorry to lose one of the best baseball players N. P. H. S. ever had.
- EUGENE WAGES, "Bud".....Manager
 Being a veteran player, "Bud" gave us many tips; he also was an excellent manager. Thanks, "Bud."
- J. A. BAKER.....Coach
 Our modest success was due mainly to Mr. Baker's hard work and patience. We hope to satisfy his dreams for a state championship this coming year.

During this track season, our team took part in two meets and the district meet held at New Concord. In our first meet with Millersburg we lost 87-40 and Uhrichsville defeated us 80-37. We took last place at New Concord.

Because track is a minor sport in our school, little attention has been given to it. From all appearances track will be more successful next year because of our new track, and more track material will be available.

DEBATES FOR 1929-30

This is the second year that our high school has been a member of the Ohio State Debating League. This League comprises one hundred and twelve schools, seven of which are in this district,—namely, Canton McKinley, Dover, New Philadelphia, Coshocton, Newcomerstown, Uhrichsville, and Cambridge. The question issued by the League which every school in Ohio debated was "Resolved, that trial before a judge or board of judges should be substituted for trial before a petit jury in the United States."

Our first debate for this season was held on December 5, 1929, when the Dover negative met the New Philadelphia affirmative in the Senior High Auditorium. The contest was an interesting one, and the New Philadelphia contestants were elated at winning their first debate. The next afternoon the negative team met the Coshocton affirmative in their initial debate on the foreign floor. Although not favored with the good fortune that the Red and Black affirmative enjoyed, they proved themselves competent debaters and lost the contest by a small margin.

On the evening of January 9, 1930, Canton McKinley affirmative debated the N. P. H. S. negative on the home floor. This was the long anticipated debate of the season, and although the negative was defeated, they showed a great improvement over the former contest. On Friday our affirmative went to Cambridge. The debate was given before the students of the high school, and even though the Red and Black was on a foreign floor, they carried off the honors of the day.

The last debate of this year was on January 24. Everyone was delighted with the outcome of this contest, for the negative won at Newcomerstown and the affirmative defeated the Uhrichsville negative here at home.

The National Forensic League offers points for each contest either won or lost. To each debater is given eleven points for each debate won and five for each one lost. Thus does each of our contestants have the required number of points to become members of the National Forensic League. Although all our contests have not been won, the debaters feel that this has been a profitable year, and hope for greater success next season, since only two members of the teams will graduate with the Class of 1930.

MUSIC

OUR BAND

Hark! Hark! Hark to them all.
Big boys and little, men small and tall,
Girls from the grades, junior and high,
Mothers and sisters in a hue and cry.

Red and black, red and black all in marching line.
Onward, ever onward, the crowd is beating time;
The tune is that old favorite and played as in relay
While all the chorus sings, "Philly, will shine today."

27. "Jerry of Jericho Road." Everybody delighted.
28. The Second Annual County Senior Banquet was held in the Dover Y. M. C. A. Seventy-one present from our class. Spring vacation starts. Whoopee!

APRIL

8. Delphian goes to press. Big sighs of relief!

LITERARY

Oh, To Be A Poet

My teacher has made a decree
That we shall write poetry.
Now poetry is very fine,
If it happens to be in your line.
I have walked the floor,
And I've torn my hair,
Only to find, I must give up in despair.
I can sing you a song;
I can tell you a tale,
But in writing a poem,
I surely will fail.

—Mary Carolyn Graff, '31.

THE MISSING LINK

One summer I went to visit my Uncle John, Aunt Nancy, and Cousins Mary and Bill, in Detroit. Aunt Nancy was always planning things for us to do so that I would have a nice visit.

One day she read an advertisement about a lecture on evolution. She thought we would like it, so Mary, Bill, and I went along, although we did not particularly relish spending a long afternoon hearing about man's relation to monkeys.

When we arrived, we were shown to seats up in front about four rows back. As I sat down, I felt my gold chain necklace slipping at my neck. It fell into my lap. I snatched it up and examined it. To my dismay I found that part of the chain was gone. The necklace, which had been given to me by a rich uncle on my birthday, was very valuable.

Aunt Nancy said that since the speaker had not started, I should go back and hunt for it. I searched, but I could not find it. I walked down to my seat again very much worried about it. As I started into the row where we were seated, I happened to glance down and saw a shining, gold object.

I made a dash for it and forgetting where I was, I exclaimed "The missing link!" There was dead silence for a minute. Then a wave of laughter spread over the audience. Cousin Bill rocked from side to side with glee. Mary's face was crimson and Aunt Nancy stared straight ahead.

I glanced up and saw that the speaker had just stepped out of a side door on the platform. I was no longer concerned about the dull afternoon which I must spend at the lecture. Even my gold chain seemed of no consequence. All I was conscious of was that I was in disgrace. Aunt Nancy had planned an afternoon of entertainment for me, and everyone was entertained but me.

D. H., '32.

To My Dog

My dog, you've been a wonderful friend
With your honest eyes of brown,
And though I've had you for many a year,
You have never once turned me down.

When many a time my heart was sore
With childish troubles in my brain,
You would come rollicking up to me
To help me find new pleasures again.

And though you have gone and left me
I know I shall never forget
Those good times down by the river,
For the memory is lingering yet.

My canine friends, I think you deserve
More credit than scores of toys;
You have brought a world of gladness
To many girls and boys.

—Lindsay Edwards, '30.

How Am I To Know

(To Mr. Kaylor)

How am I to know,
When called upon,
Whether my answer was right,
Or whether it was wrong?

Shall I stand there and be laughed at?
Or shall I take my seat?
It's a terrible thing to solve,
And simply can't be beat!

If I knew the answer was right,
Then I would feel at ease.
But since I never know,
It makes me weak in the knees.

Won't someone help me along,
And tell me what to do?
When stuck in such a muddle,
Or are you baffled, too?

—Violet Lahmers, '31.

A TRIP TO CEDAR POINT

Last summer the Elks invited the New Philadelphia High School Band to go to the Elks' Convention at Cedar Point the last week in August. Our director chartered a special train of four coaches, and after marching from the high school to the depot amid much shouting and cheering, we boarded the train, and with a "toot toot" of the whistle, we were on our way.

"Sonny" Schenk, our director, told us to sit still on the train, but who could sit still on that train? It was a very dirty and shaky ride, but we didn't mind that part of it because we were all thinking about the adventure that lay ahead of us.

We left New Philadelphia at nine o'clock Wednesday morning and arrived at Sandusky at three o'clock the same day. As soon as we got off the train, we marched to the Elks' headquarters and played a few marches for them to let them know that we had survived the trip. When they had given us a hearty welcome, we marched down to the dock and boarded the steamer for Cedar Point.

The ride on Lake Erie in the steamer was much more enjoyable than the ride on the train. We sailed along so smoothly that we hardly knew we were moving and much too soon we arrived at the Point. After leaving the boat, we marched to the Breakers Hotel, where we were the guests of the Elks.

As soon as we were assigned our rooms, we washed our somewhat soiled faces and dressed for a good time. While we were dressing, we were worrying about something to eat, but we need not have worried because as soon as we came out of our rooms, we were told to go to the cafeteria. You can just imagine the order in which we went. I don't remember how I got there, but I do remember the food. Our hosts certainly did not let us go hungry while we were there.

After we ate, we went over to the Midway and took in some amusements. The most thrilling thing of all was the "Cyclone." It is the fastest roller-coaster in the world; riding on the "Cyclone" certainly beats riding on the train or steamer. Another treat was "Noah's Ark." It is a crazy house and when we came out of it, we all felt as if we belonged in Massillon.

On Thursday we went back to Sandusky and marched in the big parade. We marched for an hour and drilled a little. After we were through marching, we returned to Cedar Point and went in swimming. It was a great treat.

On Friday morning at nine o'clock we left Cedar Point and at ten o'clock we left Sandusky on our homeward journey. Most of the boys and girls were sleepy, so they tried to sleep. Sleeping on the train proved to be a difficult feat because when one boy or girl would see another one sleeping, he would pour ice water on him or torture him in some other way.

We arrived at the New Philadelphia depot at 2:45 o'clock and marched to the high school, followed by our mothers and fathers, who were rejoicing that their children had returned home safely.

Our trip to Cedar Point will always be a happy memory to members of the New Philadelphia High School Band.

ROBERTA STONEMAN, '31.

A Minstrel Show

A minstrel show came to our town;
It was a great feature.
Kaylor was the silly clown,
Not at all like our solemn teacher.

Miss Furbay sold the tickets,
And the prices were sky high,
But Miss Snider and Miss Glauser
Let bashful boys in on the sly.

Miss Rutledge, as the fat lady,
Made a great big hit,
While Mr. Baker, as the strong man,
Made use of a first-aid kit.

Miss Beaber directed the orchestra,
With a new baton in her hand,
And Bender, with a bamboo pole,
Directed the High School Band.

Miss Barton gave some jokes,
Which we were supposed to laugh at,
And Mr. Stoughton as a handsome shiek,
Wore gloves, spats and a purple stove pipe hat.

Craine was a ballet dancer,
With Felton did he dance,
While "Sonny," as a policeman,
Wore bright new sky blue pants.

Barnhart, Myer, Dallas, and Findley
Made up a collegiate quartet,
And, to our amazement, near the race tracks,
Baker could be seen giving Stockwell her bet.

Miss Ramey sang a negro spiritual,
While Helmick played a saw,
But as Alberson broke a new bass drum,
We left for home with "ma and pa."

—Mary Jane Robb, '32.

My Ambition

Most everyone is ambitious,
And I'm only human, you see,
So please don't jeer or laugh
When you hear what I want to be.

I don't care to be world renowned,
Or have all the wealth one can,
I'd just like to live and be,
A wayside friend to man.

I'd like to have a little kingdom,
That everyone could call his own,
And always could retreat to
When they're weary and alone.

And if I could have this one desire,
All others I would ban,
To just be able to live and love,
As a wayside friend to man.

—Olive Riley, '32.

"Junior Troubles"

"It's fun to be a Junior,"
That's what the Seniors say,
And yet 'twas just a year ago
They talked a different way.

"A Junior has an awful time,
The lessons are too long,
And teachers are so grouchy."
This was their daily song.

Oh, well, when I'm a Senior,
I suppose I'll say the same,
One year will change my point of view;
Life is a funny game.

—Gertrude Rees, '31.

Flying Through the Sky

I took a ride one night
In an aeroplane, you see;
My luck I left at home
And this greatly hindered me.

I climbed into the plane
And soon we started off;
The aviator laughed at me
And soon began to scoff.

The first thing was a tail-spin
And this slightly frightened me.
The next a nose-dive true
And we nearly hit a tree.

A loop-the-loop came third
And this one sure did fail;
I came down from the sky
And landed on a sail.

The boat began to rock;
The men began to flee,
But, Oh! The astonishment
When they saw it was only me.

The fall had slightly jarred me,
I came slipping from the sail.
The next move they were frightened;
I slipped onto the rail.

But when I woke in terror,
I discovered with a sigh,
How much excitement lurks
In flying through the sky.

—Betty Forney, '32.

JOKES

Miss Ramey (in Economics Class): "Now you didn't see many chain stores fifty or seventy-five years ago."

Bob Welling: "Gosh, and neither did you."

* * *

Art Ulrich (talking to Bob Tucker): "Hey, Bob, let me use your gym shoes."

* * *

Miss Barton: "Give me the principal parts of come, Adam."

Adam Fishel: "Come, went, gone."

* * *

Miss Beaber: "Who was Mercury, George?"

George Porter: "He's the fellow that runs up and down the thermometer."

* * *

Earl Mathias (in French Class): "Isn't there a town in France where they make Bourbon wine?"

Joe Price: "Keep your mind out of the cellar."

* * *

Miss Helmick (to Bob Rinehart the morning before the Senior play): "Don't shave, Bob; I want something to stick your mustache on."

* * *

Mr. Dallas (in third period Algebra): "A very few of these papers were neat. One or two in the class were exceptionally neat."

Lillian Yaggi displays "Very neatly done" on her paper.

Mr. Dallas: "But, of course, neatness does not take brains."

* * *

Junior: "Why don't you come to school any more?"

Sophomore: "Oh, I quit."

Junior: "Why, you dumb bunny!"

Sophomore: "Yeah! That's why I quit."

* * *

Eleanor (to small brother): "You know better than to sneak in quietly when Jimmie is calling."

Small Brother: "Y'mean, I know better'n to make a lotta noise when I come in—if I wanna see anything."

* * *

Johnny B.: "Whoopee, I own Hell."

Bill W.: "Howzat?"

Johnny: "My girl just gave it to me."

* * *

Miss Rutledge (calling on Bob Tucker for a Latin sentence): "Bob, what would you like?"

Bob: "I'll take chocolate."

* * *

Miss Helmick (after Mary Carolyn Graff has dropped her compact three times in one period): "You'd better bring a paper sack for that compact tomorrow."

Lindsay E.: "What's a megaphone used for?"

Paul R.: "For crying out loud."
* * *

Miss Stockwell: "What is a tankard?"

Robert Stewart: "A tankard is a man who drinks all the booze he can find and then gets gloriously drunk."
* * *

Vivian Goulder: "Have you read the part in Silas Marner where they found Dunstan's bones in a well?"

June Romig: "No; was he dead?"
* * *

Miss Baker (in Hamlet Class): "What oath did Hamlet ask Horatio and Marcellus to swear by their swords?"

James Johnson: "Heaven help us!"
* * *

Miss Alberson (to Thelma Snyder giving a current topic in history class): "What state of health is Madame Curie in now, Thelma?"

Thelma: "Detroit, Michigan, isn't she?"
* * *

Miss Glauser (looking at her watch): "We shall have this rehearsal in three weeks." (Looking at the calendar): "We have fifteen minutes."
* * *

Mary Thompson: "And the Britons still wear the same clothes that their ancestors did."

Jessie Thomas: "Oh, the dirty things."
* * *

Dean: "Would you mind putting Roberta on the wire?"

Mr. S.: "What do you think my daughter is, a tight-rope walker?"
* * *

Dave Harris (translating in Vergil): "And Dido gave a bowry."

Miss Ruthledge: "Don't you mean dowry?"

Dave: "Well, what's the difference?"
* * *

Mr. Bender (trying to explain to Olive Riley why 700 was called the eighth century): "Were you a year old when you were born?"

Olive Riley: "I really can't remember; I'm sorry."
* * *

Miss Helmick: "Why do people take plants out of a sick room at night?"

Dee Renneckar: "It's hard on the plants."
* * *

Johnny Bebout: "How did you get those red marks on your nose?"

"Chuck" Stahl: "Glasses."

Johnny: "Glasses of What?"
* * *

Dorothy Landis: "If you were to fly to Europe, you wouldn't get a medal."

Betty Forney: "No, but I'd get across."
* * *

George Getz: "Well, ta-ta, remember me in your dreams."

Pauline O'Guin: "Yes; all I dream about is snakes."
* * *

Miss Rutledge (sarcastically): "Am I disturbing you, Dale?"

Dale Platz (sleepily): "No-o-o, but you might speak a little softer."

Dave Harris (giving a special report on Lincoln in American History):
"And Lincoln reached out and spoke to Seward with his long arm."

Miss Helmick: "If I put three fish in an aquarium and one died, what would happen?"

Curtis Graff: "There'd be two left."

Mr. Kaylor: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"
(Meaning in what city.)

Eugene Hartman: "At the end."

Dave Harris (In History Class): "Lincoln saw Captain Blaine, a bright-eyed, good-looking boy, sitting on a cot about twenty-three years old."

Miss Ramey (in Sociology Class): "What is a magician?"

Ann Cooke: "A fake."

Anne Gross (to Peg Youngen, who was learning to drive a car and was going around a corner too fast, headed straight for a tree): "Break it! Break it!"

Peg: "What? The tree?"

Barber: "How do you want your hair cut?"

Faye Waller: "I just want the back of my head straightened."

Barber: "Wet or dry, Madam?"

Margaret Grosjean: "Never mind my politics; comb my hair."

Joe Price: "My mother says that I talk in my sleep, doctor; what should I do?"

Doctor: "Nothing that you shouldn't."

Kaylor: "On what date did the first Wednesday in March fall in 1789?"
"Pooch" Lemasters: "Sunday."

Miss Baker (in Business English discussing advertisement about a lost dog): "One important item is left out."

Homer Scott: "He has a stub tail."

Miss Baker: "Where will we put that?"

Homer Scott: "At the end."

Mr. Kaylor: "What two dates ought we to remember?"

Freda Gintz: "1492 and I don't know the other one."

Bill Webster: "Your birthday."

Miss Helmick: "Can you give me an example of wasted energy?"

Charles Russell: "Yes, telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man."

Mr. Kaylor (after Dave Harris finishes his History report): "Now, has anyone anything interesting to say?"

Harold Rolli: "Why is Ruth Milar wearing colored glasses?"

Dale Platz: "To keep the blue in her eyes from fading."

Jessie's so sweet;
She's so petite;
She spends all her time
A' lookin' for Pete.

* * *

Bob Tucker (reading a French menu in a cafe): "I'll take some of this."
Waiter: "I'm sorry, but the orchestra just played that."

* * *

Miss Stockwell: "Tell something about Shakespeare's death."
Evelyn Hawk: "Shakespeare died on April 23, 1616, the same day he was born."

* * *

"Pooch" Lemasters: "Why is a Ford car like a bath tub?"
Charles Russell: "Because most everybody has them and they are ashamed to be seen in 'em."

* * *

Helen Forney: "Chuck, you would be a marvelous dancer but for two things."

Charles Russell: "What are they?"

Helen Forney: "Your feet."

* * *

Paul Pfeiffer: "What are you reading that for?"

Dale Platz (reading absence list): "To see if I was here this morning."

* * *

Dave Harris: "Those new Chevys sure have a pretty green color, don't they?"

Mary Bucher: "I'll say they do."

Dave: "Do you know why they paint them that color?"

Mary: "No."

Dave: "So they can hide in the grass and let the Fords go by."

* * *

Miss Helmick: "What is the most outstanding contribution that chemistry has given the world?"

Bill Webster: "Blondes."

* * *

BRILLIANT ANSWERS

"The teeth are the grin organs."

"Nicotine is such a deadly poison that a drop of it on a dog's tail will kill a man."

"Geometry teaches us how to bisect angels."

"The purpose of the skeleton is to hitch meat unto."

* * *

Miss Rutledge (speaking of Roscius, who died of old age, to the great sorrow of his people): "And how old was Roscius, Homer?"

Homer Rieker (looking at senex): "Six."

* * *

Earl Colvin (in Macbeth Class): "There were torches and hot-boys on the stage in this scene."

* * *

Robert Welling (reading Hamlet's love letter to Ophelia): "To the celestial and my soul's idiot, the most beautiful Ophelia"—

Our little dog is brown and white.
He barks and barks and barks all night.
When he finally wakes me up
I get up and choke that pup.

* * *

Miss Alberson (in Ancient History Class): "What happened to Charlemagne on his death bed?"

Mary J. Robb: "He died."

* * *

Mr. Kaylor: "Why did Thomas Jefferson write the Declaration of Independence, John?"

John B. (just waking up): "Why-er-a because he couldn't afford to hire a stenographer, I suppose."

* * *

Dave Shively (to Lorna Southard): "Was someone sick at your house last night?"

Lorna: "No, why?"

Dave: "Well, I saw Dr. Coleman's car there all evening."

Baseball for Welty Junior High is always destined to be a series of setbacks since Welty is the only Junior High School in this vicinity that sports a baseball team. We are obliged to play Senior High School teams which are naturally composed of older boys who are entirely out of our class. But the experience gained is invaluable.

WILLIAM ZWICK

WELTY—0

LONGFELLOW—6

This was the first game in which most of the Junior High boys played, and they put up a good fight.

WELTY—0

BREWSTER—12

Brewster had a larger and heavier team than Welty, but we were not outclassed.

WELTY—19

LONGFELLOW—6

Welty outplayed Longfellow in every quarter. The Junior High deserved to win.

WELTY—0

LORIN ANDREWS—6

Lorin Andrews was lucky to win. "Tough breaks" won the game for them.

WELTY—0

LOREN ANDREWS—25

The Junior High School was off form—enough said.

WELTY—0

SENIOR HIGH RESERVES—0

Welty outplayed the Reserves but could not score.

WELTY—0

WAYNESBURG—12

Waynesburg had an unusually good team. We feel proud to have held the score low.

Football for 1929 was confronted with unusually poor material from which a fairly good team was built around a nucleus of two letter men, Captain Olmstead and Glen Taylor. The close of the season found several players who had developed into fairly good material for the Senior High team of 1930. Captain Olmstead is a player of unusual ability and should make the Senior High backfield extend themselves to the utmost to keep their berths in 1930. Arthur Earle, Dick McIntosh, and Joe Zurcher also showed promising ability and should help make a winning combination for the Senior High team next year.

The Midgets played many an interesting preliminary to the Welty Junior High games. The teams were chosen from the smaller boys of the school.

Ninth Year Basketball Champions

There were eight teams competing in the ninth year Basketball Tournament. The final game was played between the Straight Sports (9/5) and Far Flies (9/4) Teams. The Far Flies won with a 7-3 score. The winning team was composed of: Gertrude Sterns, captain; Helen Legg, manager; Bessie Bland, Katherine Lea, Leora Haeberlae, Kathleen Lea, and Julia Raiff.

The seventh and eighth years played off an elimination tournament in Volleyball. Twelve teams were competing for the championship. The 7/6's and 8/3's played the final game. The 8/3's emerged as winners.

THE STAR

Oh, little star so bright!
Up in the deep, deep night;
I like to look at your little light,
Up in the deep, deep night.
Up in the sky you twinkle so;
You are watching over us I know!
And it thrills me from head to toe
To think of the wonderful things you know.

Emily Salt, '32

MOTHER

There are lines in her forehead, and gray in her hair,
But her eyes are blue and very fair;
And all the beauty of living for others,
Shines in her face—the face of all Mothers.

Grace Buehler, '32

MY LITTLE DOG—TED

The dog was a mangy old cur at his best.
He didn't have a thing with which other dogs are blessed.
He didn't have teeth, with which to chew his meat,
And he didn't have claws at the end of his feet.
But there's no other dog with so wise a head
As my little rat terrier—that little dog Ted.

Earle Snyder, '32

LOOKING FORWARD

In the early hours of morning
When my bed seems exactly like Heaven,
I hear Mother's voice saying softly,
"Come, Helen! It's almost seven."

I arise and dress very quickly
With thoughts running thus in my mind:
"Did I get all my English and Spelling,
And will I be there on time?"

"It's raining! Oh, where is my slicker?
Now I will just look a sight,
For I left it over at Edith's
Didn't think it would rain last night."

Oh! I know that I'll be so happy
When my school days are o'er;
And to know that old bell at Central
Will give me heart failure no more.

THE GOB FROM WELTY HIGH

The gob stood on the icy deck;
The temperature was very low.
He cried to his captain, "Heck!
Why don'tcha make this ship go?"

They sailed out of Silver gate,
Slashing the billows at a terrific rate.
The hull couldn't stand the strain,
And fell to pieces like tropical rain.

The captain called for volunteers
To repair the ship while waiting.
The gob said, eyes filled with tears,
"I will, if you'll raise my rating."

He cried as he climbed o'er the rail,
"I'm a fellow from Welty High!"
He fixed the hull with hammer and nail,
While consuming a bottle of rye.

From Silver gate to Ramsam bay,
The folks all heard the sailors say,
"I wish I were as daring a guy
As that gob who hails from Welty High."

Max Butler, '30

AUTOMOTIVE ANIMAL LIFE

A balky mule has four wheel brakes;
A billy goat has bumpers;
A firefly is a bright spot light;
Rabbits are puddle jumpers.

Camels have balloon tire feet,
And they carry spares of what they eat;
But still I think that nothing beats
The kangaroo with the rumble seat.

A PARODY

Eddie Maurer sat in a class.
Eddie Maurer failed to pass;
And all the king's horses
And all the king's men
Couldn't make Eddie Maurer
Take Latin again.

A TEACHER'S MEETING

"Now just go to bed and let me alone,"
I said to them with a smile.
"We have three tests to-morrow;
So I want to study a while."

The room soon was as quiet as a graveyard.
Nothing could be heard but the clock.
I began to study my Algebra,
But I was stopped by a loud tick, tock.

A vision appeared before me;
And what to my surprise!
It was a teacher's meeting.
I could hardly believe my eyes.

Of course Mr. Rudy was the leader,
But he stood there with a grin—
Not like he always stares at us.
I wasn't even afraid to walk in.

Now Mr. Kurtz and Mr. Fishel
Were acting kind of wild.
Playing leap-frog over the desks;
But Mr. Rudy still looked mild.

Miss Pinsenschaum let out a scream.
"Sonny, let go my hair!"
Mr. Zwick hurried to defend her,
But he stumbled over a chair.

Miss Webster had a squirt gun;
The contents flew into space.
No, I don't mean what I said;
It was into Miss Winger's face.

Now Miss Wilson enters
With a notice of surprise.
Miss Shumaker and Miss Nickles
Had been caught for stealing pies.

While these innocent teachers' pranks
Are moving along with fun,
Miss Phares entertains herself
By chewing a pack of gum.

But alas! I couldn't see the rest;
The vision faded away.
I shut my book to with a bang
To await another day.

Ruby Cross, '30

ON THE STREET CAR

I did not even know his name,
Nor where he lived, nor from whence he came;
'Twas sad, and yet
Was I so very much to blame
That all my heart should start to flame
And flare and fret?

He was so dear, so neat and fair,
With such a smile and such an air.
What could I do?
A glance so shy, a blond so fair,
An eye so bright,
A smile so rare,
I never knew!

And so I smiled across the aisle
And met the merry, winsome smile
He sent so bold.
At last he laughed, and after a while
He said aloud in friendly style,
"I'm 'free years old!"

Edith Bitterman, '30

SNOW

The world is white
At hushed twilight;
And lamp-lit windows glow
With cheeriness
From cozy nests
All tucked in drifted snow.

Kathleen Lea, '30

THE FAIRY

I say a little fairy,
Just the other night;
She was having the gayest time,
Dancing in the moonlight.

She was the prettiest fairy,
A very nice sight to behold;
Dressed in the daintiest clothes,
All made of shimmering gold.

As I watched her there a-dancing,
She stopped and flew lightly away;
Some people say I won't see her again,
But I think that I will someday.

Dorothy Getter, '31

DETENTION

Detention is the place that I detest.
I go there because—well, you know the rest.
For forty-five minutes I sit there and think;
Then I wonder if my brain hasn't a kink.
When I have finished (if I finish at all),
I feel as if this place will be my downfall.
When all of a sudden I hear the bell,
It sure sound refreshing, or shall I say swell?

—Kenneth Johns, '30.

WAITING

In the office is a chair
Where he makes you sit and stare.
Isn't it an awful feeling
To sit there and just look at the ceiling?

THE DELPHIAN HOUR

This is J. B. Rudy (Vallee) announcing from Station W. J. H. S., New Philadelphia, Ohio—over the Red and White Network. The program starts with Schenk's "Sunny Syncopators," playing "Me and My Girl Friend—words and music by C. W. Zwick.

I will next introduce Miss Frieda Pfeiffer who will recite her favorite selection, "So Much for That." Following the recitation, the noted traveler and lecturer, O. Henry, will talk on "The Habits of Cranes."

And now two musical numbers: a duet, "Little by Little"—Misses McLean and Gintz; and a quartette, "Days May Come and Days May Go, But Schooldays Go on Forever"—Fishel, Leeka, Webster, and Mitchell.

Our most interesting feature is the "Bed Time Story" by Uncle Ernest Leeka, who will narrate the stupendous serio-comio scenario, from Webster's Unabridged.

We close this hour of entertainment with our signing off song, "Happy Days Are Here Again," by the entire Assembly. This is station W. J. H. S., New Philadelphia, Ohio, signing off until 1931, when we will be back on the air in a new "Delphian Annual."

JOLLY JUNIOR JOKERS

The joke editor may write
Till his finger tips are sore,
But some one is sure to say
Oh! I've seen that one before.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Miss Culby (in English class): Bill, give me a long sentence.
Bill Haakinson: Imprisonment for life.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Miss Phares: I found a pin in my salad.
Miss Shumaker: That's nothing. Pins are often found in dressing.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Miss Robb: What is a caterpillar?
Donald Ball: An upholstered worm, teacher.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Bob Horger: Funny thing about the clock!
Helen Phipps: What?

Bob Horger: Oh! it can run around all night and then be on time the next morning.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Ruthie has a little tongue.
No praise am I bestowing,
For every where that Ruthie is
Her tongue is sure a going.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Miss Webster (in Science laboratory): Fire burns only on the outside of the flame.

Edith Bitterman: Next time I'll stick my finger on the inside of the flame.

A Ford

By Helen Legg

A little spark, a little coil,
A little gas, a little oil,
A piece of tin, a two inch board—
Put it together—and you have a Ford.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Mr. Rudy: Son, what makes that hump on your back?
Seventh Grader: I smoke camels.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

She: Before we were married, you swore you would never look at another woman.

He: That was only a campaign promise.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Marian Kratz: Let's go for a walk to-night, dear.

Buford Ary: Walk! What for? I've got my car out in front?

Marian Kratz: It's doctor's orders. He told me to exercise with a dumb-bell every day.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Father: Son, your teacher called on me to complain about you.

Eddie Maurer: Now ain't that just like a woman.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Algie saw the bear;
The bear saw Algie.
The bear got bulgie;
And the bulge was Algie.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Bob Rutledge: Have you heard that Dick McIntosh has lost his memory?

Kenneth Johns: Gee! how unlucky! and to think I just gave him back the five dollars I borrowed from him last week!

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Mr. Leeka: I don't see why you call your house a bungalow.

Mr. Fishel: Well, if it isn't a bungalow, what is it? The job was a bungle, and I still owe for it.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Jerry Fisher: There's a great difference in the attitude of different girls toward boys.

Dale Cordray: Yes, some have a weakness for 'em, and some are strong for 'em.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Romance

By Edith Bitterman

They were sitting side by side,
And he sighed and she sighed.
Then he said, "Your hand I ask,
So brave I've grown"—
And he groaned and she groaned.
Said she, "Upon my heart
There's such a weight,"
And she waited and he waited.
Said he, "I'll have thee, if thou wilt,"
And she wilted and he wilted.

Miss Snider: Horrors! I wouldn't marry the best man that ever lived.
He: Well, my dear, you have the consolation of knowing he proposed to you.

* * * *

Fred Russel: Why did you tell Gladys Mitchell that I was a big fool?
Helen Rinehart: I'm sorry; I didn't know it was a secret.

* * * *

Sonny Schenk (to Russell Austin who had dropped part of his trombone): Is it any wonder these instruments are all dented up! That's a trombone, not a hambone.

* * * *

Picture Miss Mitchell of very great height!
Picture Bill Seabrook getting up to recite!
Picture Miss Miller going into a fight!
Picture it quickly, for it's something that ain't.
It's really a picture no artist can paint.

* * * *

Miss —: Mr. Kurtz, the M. E. Sunday School will have the privilege of supporting you on the foreign field next year, will it not?

Mr. Kurtz: Well-ah-er-do you suppose they could support two?

* * * *

Miss Milar (in History Class): I shall be tempted to give this class a test if you do not have your lessons better.

Barbara Wright: Yield not to temptation—.

* * * *

Russell's Visit to Mildred Taylor

I went to see me girl the other night. We played cards. My girl played for diamonds; she got none. I played for hearts; I got none. Her father came in the back door. He played with clubs. I got some; I made high, low, Jack and the game over the back fence!

When I was walking past the house, Mildred said, "Russell, I'll be home tomorrow night."

"So will I."

* * * *

Note Found in Study Hall

Dear Anna: I'd rather hear you chew gum than Rudy Vallee sing.—
Carl Huff.

* * * *

Miss Shanley (in History Class): Philip, what are the three most common words used in this class?

Philip Smith: I don't know.

Miss Shanley: Correct.

* * * *

Mausie had some chewing gum.
It was black as jet.
And every where that Mausie went
That gum was there—you bet.

He took it into Algebra Class,
Which was against the rule,
Mr. Fishel took it from him
And chewed it after school.

Miss Webster: What insects carry germs?

Max Tschudy: Cats and dogs.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Mr. Fishel (at end of Algebra class): Please give me your papers before you pass out.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Miss Webster (in Science): Dick, could you get a shock by holding on to the receiver of a telephone?

Dick Mc: It depends on who is talking to me.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Mr. Cross (to girls entering school bus): Good morning, girls. How are you this morning?

Gertrude Wenger: Half dressed.

Mr. Cross: You are in style then, little lady.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Gertrude Sterns (in a debate): Mister chairman, honorable judges, and worthy exponents.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Delmar Smith: A chap here wants to know if a football coach has four wheels.

Roland Emig: And how many wheels has the thing?

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

The Perfect Man

There is a man who never drinks,
Nor smokes, nor chews, nor swears,
Who never gambles, never flirts,
And shuns all sinful snares—He's paralyzed.

There's a man who never does
Anything that is not right.
His wife can tell just where he is
At morning, noon, and night.—He's dead.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Miss Flynn (trying to explain the word thief): Now, Dale, if I were to put my hand in your pocket and take out a dime, what would I be?

Dale Corbett: A magician.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Grandfather: Don't worry, little flapper, you are no worse than your grandmother.

Cleo Ronan: That's what makes me so furious.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Miss Phares (to nine threes): I regret that I have not been trained for a nursery.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

A Freshman stood on the burning deck—
As far as we could learn;
He's as safe there as anywhere,
For he's too green to burn.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Still the Scotch

A Scotchman fell in front of a steam roller. Seeing no way of escape, he lay on his side to get his pants pressed for the funeral.

Diary (Found in Welty Junior High)

Monday—Mr. Zwick and I went to a show.
Tuesday—Mr. Zwick and I went to the hotel for dinner.
Wednesday—Mr. Zwick and I went to a dance in Dover.
Thursday—Mr. Zwick and I went to a bridge party.
Friday—Mr. Zwick and I went to the minstrel.
Saturday—Mr. Zwick and I went to Columbus.
Sunday—Happy?—and how!

* * * *

Margaret Koontz: Why, Junior, they say the moon is a dead body.
Junior Fribley: All right, let's sit up with the corpse.

* * * *

Kathryn Dickman: Why I though I told you to come after supper?
Robert Benson: Well, that's what I came after.

Kind Friends:

I am pleased to take this opportunity of thanking the members of the Delphian Staff, The Faculty, and the pupils of Senior and Junior High for the wonderful cooperation given the Cross Studio while making the pictures for this annual.

The work itself has been made a pleasure and the result, I am sure has justified our combined efforts, A Delphian of which we now feel justly proud and which will grow in value as the years pass by.

Yours for better pictures,

FINIS

Constantly Searching

Established 1895

FOR centuries astronomers have looked into the skies searching for new worlds, constellations and stars. Aside from their interesting research work, they have learned much that is of practical scientific value.

Similarly, in the field of student publications, the Indianapolis Engraving Company searches constantly for new ideas, plans and methods that will assist year-book staffs to publish successfully books characteristic of their school and community. The results of these efforts are gratifying.
