Making Memories

LEAVING NOTHING TO CHANCE.

The big date, our first dance, the big game, that one class... No matter how hard one tried one could not avoid making memories that would last a lifetime. Some of us took advantage of every opportunity while others just enjoyed watching from afar but the impact of NPHS will forever be etched into our memories.

Start Here

HEADING IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

ummer vacation was over, and it was time to get back to work. As the school bell rang the sounds of laughter gave new life to NPHS as friends greeted each other. The students were soon to realize that this was a new beginning, not only as a new school year, but a new millennium.

In and Out

THE SUMMER GOES SO FAST.

un in the sun, sleeping in and late nights make time fly. But school work never seems to end. The year always seems to speed up when the warm weather approaches. Summer is never boring when compared to homework. Its full of plenty activities and jobs, especially working at Tuscora Park!

THE FAIR FEATURED MORE THAN ANIMALS.

t was another great year at the fair for students of NPHS. The schedule of the 1999 fair was similar to every other year with the notorcross, band show, truck and tractor pull, live stock sale, country ingers, square dance, and demolition derby. Along with all of those vents taking place area 4-H members could be found showing their nimals, putting their fairbooth together, or just enjoying the fair vith everyone else.

Time To Play

QUAKERS FALL TO TIMKEN.

n a wet soggy night the Quakers just couldn't get anything going against a much improved Timken Trojan team. It seemed like everytime the Quakers got started they were shut down by penalties or turnovers. Stand out Quarterback Ryan Range was injured just before halftime dashing the comeback hopes for the Quakers. The 26-0 outcome was not an indication of the valiant effort put forth by the entire team.

Senior Greg Grant looks towards the endzone.

With the defense behind him Senior Nick Vitt gets the signal from the sideline.

Senior Brian Wells gets his hands on the ball.

Time After Time

DANCE ATTENDANCE SETS RECORD.

over 700 people attended the 1999 homecoming. The dance was returned to the gymnasium to accommodate the large crowd. Although it rained all night it did not dampen the spirits of those attending the dance. The highlight of the evening was the court dance featuring queen Erin Dawson and her court.

Gettin' Pumped

DRESSIN' FOR SUCCESS.

nce again it was time for the annual fun-filled Spirit Week. All year long students planned for and anticipated the upcoming events. The themes chosen by student council were possibly the best ever. Monday began the week allowing students to sleep in a few extra minutes by coming to school in their pajamas to help "Dream Over Dover." Tuesday was packed with bright colors and crazy patterns as students attempted to "Clash With Dover." Mimes roamed the halls during the middle of the week "Silencing Dover." Thursday's theme transformed the student body into a nerdy group identified by high waters and pocket protectors. Of course, Friday was the annual red & black day but to add to the spirit students also helped "Sock Dover" by wearing crazy socks. Overall the week was, as always, a blast.

High Spirits

LAST TIME TO SHINE IN 99.

The annual pep rally consisted a senior tribute, NPHS cheerleaders, QT squad, Delphian Corale, Band, and a stand full of fans filled with Quaker pride for the upcoming game. The seniors were presented with a special gift for their hard work and dedication throughout the years and to help them remember their last game and the very last NPHS football game of the century.

Senior Brian Wells holds the football for Brent Buehler.

Who's Who?

NPHS STUDENTS SEE DOUBLE.

The students at NPHS had a great time at Sweater Hop as always. The theme for Sweater Hop was "A Night at the Roxbury". Students dressed alike in not only sweaters, but also in flannels and tee-shirts. Students mingled with other kids from the area schools and caught up on the latest gossip. However, no one had to ask who someone's date was. The shirts made it easier to find someone's date if they were separated and to see who's with who.

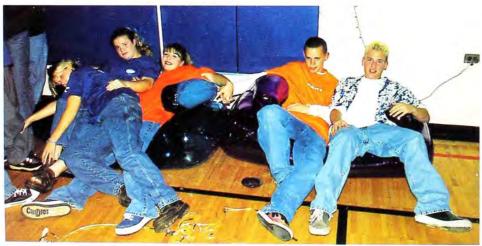

Chip Ellwood and Dana Shroyer give her date surprising news.

Acting Out

THE DRAMA DEPARTMENT GROWS.

he NPHS drama club presented The Servant of Two Masters directed by Mrs. Liberatore. It was a hilarious drama set in the 18th century, based on disguise, coincidence, misunderstanding, and withheld information. The cast was larger than the year before, and many more people tried out, but only eleven could be chosen. Those lucky students were Seth Pringle as Pantalone, Olivia Walker as Clarice, Matt Ankney as Lombardi, Aaron Jenkins as Silvio, Marissa Walter as Beatrice, Luke Menapace as Florindo, Chad Anderson as Truffaldino, Mike Tolan as Brigella, and Abby Jenkins as Smeraldina. Jessie Wilson and Joe Aubihl completed the cast.

Playin' Around

THE YEARBOOK CLASS CHOOSES AN APPROPRIATE THEME.

The NPHS yearbook staff worked hard to complete the book. After many days of thinking of themes, the staff finally decided on a theme of games. The students had tons of fun deciding which games to use, just like they had fun playing around in class. All in all, the staff worked well together and had a good time.

Marching On

QUAKERS GO IN A NEW DIRECTION.

The Marching Quakers gave it their all this season preparing for Grand Nationals. The band practiced long and hard to perfect their show, "A New Direction". They played three songs, Candide Overture by Bernstein, Buckaroo Holiday by Copland and Chester by Schumann.

"Box 5"

A DIFFERENT YEAR.

A arching band began with the arrival of Mr. Angel, a 1989 alumnist of New Phila. and Miss. Dorsch, a student teacher from Akron University. With their fresh and innovative ideas, band became more than just a class with many after school practices. It became a challenge. The staff began to focus more on individual preformances, and less on the "big picture." This helped the students be better marchers and performers. Every individual was important and had to be for the success of the whole group. Since the staff helped build confident marchers, they also created a confident show. Throughout the season, the show "A New Direction" steadily became a winner. By the time the Marching Quakers walked off the field at the RCA dome they had won. Not in trophies so much, but in spirit.

Getting It Done

The '99 Quaker Golf Team got the job done by capturing the ECOL championship, setting a new tournament record of 298 in the process. The varisty had an 8-2 dual match record while the Junior Varsity's overall season was 7-2. The Varsit team captured many victories during their season including win at the River View Invitational where they set another tournament record of 296. They also won the Division Sectional title. The Quakers were led by senior four year letterman, Chris Miller who was the Eastern District player of the year and 1st team ECOL. Junior Kevin Moore was ECO player of the year and 1st team district. Sophomore Blake Sattle was first team ECOL and 2nd team district. Junior Jon Bower and Senior Josh Breehl also received post senior honors.

Kickin' Grass

The Soccer team tore up against every speck of "competition" they faced this season. Their success on the grass this year was in the hands of E.C.O.L. Coach of the year- Brian Rotunno and his seven senior gamers. With the leadership of the seniors and hard work of the under classmen, a successful season was a given. Led by their E.C.O.L. Player of the Year, Andrew Napier, The team went undefeated and journeyed to Regionals for the first time in NP Soccer history. The crew ended with a 14-0-2 record in the regular season and lost a hard fought over time dual to Thomas Worthington. They "played like Quakers".

Season of Spirit

The 1999 football team started their season with high hopes. Fans joined them with cheer, students crowded to watch and the team, itself, enjoyed the games. The hard work and practice over the summer was finally paying off. Many under classmen got to experience a varsity game while the rest carried out their positions. #### 1-2-3 We Love Our Varsity

The Varsity squad had a great year. They started off their season by attending Cheer Ohio. There they had the opportunity to compete in a cheer and dance competition. They came in first place in the dance competition and received many blue and gold ribbons during the their four days at camp. They had a great time cheering at both the football and basketball games. ### Keepin' It Up Comming into the new year with high expectations, the QT's proved their experience. An overwhelming eighteen veterans returned to help lead the squad to a first place camp finish. They also amazed crowds at the Dover-Phila pep rally with a dance put together by captain Angie Vick. The theme, "Going Into Battle," included military commands lead by Capt. Riker and fast paced dances to hit songs, such as "Ice Ice Baby." Other four year members and co-captains: Amie Francis, Ashley Moreland, Chastin Pirillo, and Katy Weisgarber, helped make it a fun and memorable year for everyone involved.

Dedication

The Quakers has a great season this year as they raced to a overall winning record of 44-33. They were lead by their four senior captains: Steve Sherer, Erik Welker, R.P. Hildebrand, and Tom Berry as well as Coach Krienbihl's Most Valuable Runner Todd Morell. The runners began training in the sweltering months of summer and worked hard throughout the season. Their inspiration came from the famous quote, "The will to win means nothing without the will to prepare." Coach Krienbihl was very proud of the boys' dedication and ability. He describes cross country as being "as much an attitude as a sport."

Team Work

The volleyball team had a tough year with only a few wins. It was a trying time for the players and coaches. Throughout the season Coach Pry tried several different lineups in an effort to achieve success. The team never let down and continued to put up a valiant effort even though they were short on wins, they had big hearts. Coach Pry commended her girls on the excellent teamwork they displayed all season long. With only four seniors the team relied on several underclassmen who gained valuable experience. This experience was evident as the girls upset rival Dover at the end of the season and then went on to win their sectional and took State Ranked Chilicothe to three games in the District finals.

The hitters relied on Susi Hupp's sets all season.

t was an exciting end to the season as the JV Volleyball team won four out of its last five games. It began as an up and down season for both the freshman and the JV's with a few wins spread out among losses. The freshman were only 2-8 in the league but the two wins were both over rival Dover, giving the girls a sense of accomplishment. In both cases the ultimate goal was to improve their skills and become members of the Varsity volleyball team.

Splish Splash

At 4:00 in the morning during the school year, blood was pumping and water was splashing at the local YMCA where swimmers from the NPHS swim team took to the water. Although this three-day-a-week early-bird practice was not required like the daily 4:00 to 5:30 evening practice, it was a help to those wishing to get better. With the 3,000 yards swam in the morning combined with the evening's 5,000 yards, an avid swimmer swam approximately nineteen miles a week.

The girls varsity basketball team got off to a slow start adjusting to a new style of play under the leadership of first year coach, and former Quaker, Jeany Heck. The team had two returning letterman, Laura Lab and Steph Noretto. With the dedication, motivation and leadership of these two individuals along with Susi Hupp, a new senior member, the team was able to turn their season around and have a big finish.

A New Look

though not new to coaching, Miss Dani Fishly, found her new position as the JV's head coach a comfortable place to be. After graduating from Tusky Valley in 1994, Miss Fishley went to Bowling Green and majored in physical education. In 1998, she applied for and became the assistant coach for the varsity team. This year she was moved into the position of being the JV's head coach. Due to her outstanding coaching ability, and the girl's hard work and dedication, the JV team won eleven of their games.

Dream Season

The E.C.O.L. Coach of the Year Phil Tidrick reflected back to 1975, Tidrick's senior year when he lead the Quakers as a player. He dreamed back then of someday coming back to lead the Quakers as their head coach. With Tidrick in charge the Quakers stormed out of the gates by defeating league favored Cambridge in the second game and never looked back finishing with a 19-3 record. Led by eight seniors the underclassmen were constantly reminded to work harder. Taking the E.C.O.L. Championship title, the Quakers then made their way to Steubenville where they wouldn't surrender to Zanesville capturing an overtime victory in the sectionals.

Champs

The girls track team not only won the Meadowbrook invitational for the third year in a row, but they were also the ECOL champs for the second year. The team relied on its depth to overcome its opponents. They won most of their meets by placing two girls in events as opposed to one girl winning. It was this overall team effort that allowed them to dominate the ECOL for the second year in a row. The girls looked forward to the many senior led practices and the occasional Goshen Dairy run.

with more members than recent history the track team went into the season with a lot of question marks. Although the numbers were up the team was relatively inexperienced. As the season progressed the team got better and better placing second at the Meadowbrook Inv. and winning 7 out of 16 events at the County Classic track meet. In the league meet the Quakers finished as runner's up to Cambridge. Winning the conference and being named to the first team were: 3200 Relay members (Steve Sherer, Justin Autrey, Erik Welker, Eric Weisgarber), 400-Andrew Rieger, Discus-Beau Bates, High Jump Mike Steele.

Strong Season

The Boys Varsity Tennis, lead by four senior returning lettermen, put on a good showing throughout the season. After losing an early match they came back strong and finished with a 18-1 record. Accompanying their excellent record was an E.C.O.L. Championship. The Quakers also played tough in sectionals action as they had five members of the team advance into districts. The doubles teams of Josh O'Farrell & Seth Pringle, along with Andy Lacroix & Mitch Ferris accompanied singles player Bryan Gavin to districts.

Queen Of Diamonds

he Quaker Softball team came in with high expectations after a tremendous 26-5 the previous year, setting a new chool record. The girls were stepping into big shoes to fill as the 2000 season went underway. Leading the team was Senior itching ace Jessica Leidtke, coming off of a 17-2 slate. The makers losing seven starters from the previous year had to abuild and start fresh. With the leadership of four seniors, the irls were full speed ahead. They faced many ups and downs the season went on but, triumphed over then 8th State anked Dover, as the Quakers dominated the tone of the game. Ithough heavily scrutinized, the girls held their ground as ney reclaimed the E.C.O.L. title for the third year in a row.

Red & Black Attack

different approach was taken in the New Philadelphia Softball program. The program consisted of two JV teams instead of suiting up a freshman squad. The teams were equally divided and labeled "Red" and "Black". Despite the changes that were made, the Quaker teams both produced winning seasons. JV Black finishing 12-4 as the JV Red notched a14-5 mark. The two teams lost only one game each in the league as they kept their eyes set on the league title for the future at the Varsity level. The highlight of the season for both teams came in defeating Dover five out of five games.

Field of Dreams

With hard work and dedication the 1999-2000 Varsity Baseball team finished a strong season with a record of 21-4. Their outstanding season was lead by seven seniors and nine returning lettermen. The Quakers put together a ten game winning streak which built confidence for the later part of the season and tournaments. Some highlights that notched the season were Jay Watson's game winning homerun against Edison, Ryan Range's perfect game, Tim Blick's two hitter, and the teams fourteen run inning against Tusky Valley.

Playing the Field

Despite the many rain-outs and weather impeeded games the freshmen baseball team had a successful season with an 8-7 record. The team was lead by strong pitchers and hitters. They worked hard and finished the season with a sweep over Minerva. Hard work and dedication were the keys to a successful season for the Quaker reserve team. Although they found themselves down many times they were known for come from behind wins as they managed to defeat many teams this way. They also defeated Dover twice in their successful 15-4 season.

The Game Begins

If life is like a game then the freshmen year is where it all begins. Jumping through hoops and trying to learn and follow all of the new rules was just the start. Learning the "The highlight of my year was teachers names and staying out of the yesting to cheer at the community was the real keys to way of the seniors being a successful pep rally." freshman. "The high school is a lot bigger than the middle 'Amanda Conklin "Class of 2003" school, so it took me a while to find my way around," said Mike Smith. Not only was it a new building it was a new atmosphere. "I really enjoyed being around the older students especially some of the cute guys,"said Nichole Winsch.

Workin' Hard

When a student is asked to single out his toughest year of high school, his response is always the same, "My junior!" As sophomores progress into their junior year, they're "I feel like I graduated last year higher challenges. placed into classes "Nate Shryock "Class of 2001" hard demanding teachers.

While balancing jobs and extracurricular activities they're forced to make plenty of time for homework. The prospect of college causes many students to begin planning for tests such as the ACT or SAT. As junior Andrea Burton put it, "The ACT, wow, it was really tough!!"

Start of Something Great

Scholars may disagree upon which year actually represents the new millennium. It really didn't matter to the class of 2000, it was our own personal millennium. We passed from being students at New Philadelphia Hig School to "the real world". It seemed like just yesterday that we entered school and people pointed toward the fact that we were the class of 2000 and what a big deal that was. Remember back in grade school when the only thing we worried about a nap. As time passed the reality that we would someday be the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when to take the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story time and when the class of "2000" was story 2000 began to sink in. Suddenly as we looked around letterman jackets with the double zeros representing of year became more and more prevalent, at pep rallies we had to come up with new cheers to rhyme with the classification of 2000. People were right it was a special year in a lot of ways, but mostly because we were seniors and vimade it special.

Coaches and Trainers

A lot of work went into the teams' success stories, both on and off the field.
Although the players' hard work and talent contributed to their series of wins, there is no doubt that the trainers and coaches were also largely responsible. They deserve a great deal of credit for getting the team both mentally and physically

National Honor Society

For students who excel in academics there was no higher honor than being chosen as a member of the National Honor Society. On April 28th senior members of the NHS went around the school tapping hopeful juniors and seniors to signify their acceptance as new members. As usual, the veterans tried to make new members sweat it out as they took their time tapping their friends.

Jennifer Russell and Ashley Moreland induct new member Susan Mann into the society.

Student Council

Lead by advisor Mrs.

Mann, Student Council was actively involved this school year.

Beginning in October they sponsored Phila's annual homecoming under the title of "Time After Time." In November, they encouraged participation in "Dover-Phila Week" as students dressed up to support the chosen themes. Student Council started a successful fund-raiser for Share-A-Christmas.

Stockings were hung in every seventh period classroom and students donated their spare change.

Above and Beyond

Some students took academics one step further to add to their learning out of school.
Often these students were members of the French, Science, or German Club.
These organizations helped students to further their interests in specific areas. The science club took field trips and camping adventures while the French club communicated with students from Europe. These clubs gave students a chance to make new friends.

Drama, Key, SADD, Peer Club

Key Club participated activities numerous in involving the community and the Kiwanis. Since September, when members were originally selected, they participated in pancake breakfasts, reading to children, bowling for kids, painting faces at Buehlers, and collecting cards for recycling. "I'm really proud of the way these kids have worked together to improve our community," Advisor Mrs. McLaughlin.

WIT OWA, OWE, VIPELITS

As opposed to the traditional high school classes, many students opted to go directly into the work field. These students spent only part of their day doing academic studies. The rest of the day was spent earning money in a regular profession. "OWA is a great opportunity, I really enjoy it!"

Winter Drumline

The Winter Drumline was busier than bees with eight competitions to prepare for, including MEPA (Mid-East Performance Association) and Worlds which was held April 13-16 in Dayton, Ohio. Their show, "Bees," took an abstract look at the inside of a beehive. The show opened with an introduction of the Queen Bee, who was constantly keeping her bee's working. When the bees become annoyed with all of the work they have to do, they become killer bees who get revenge on the Queen by killing her.

"K-A-LEIDO-S C-OPE- Hey we're ready to go! "In November the fourteen member Kaleidoscope and their staff, began producing their show, "Pathways." The show was a visual interpretation of Maurice Ravel's "Bolero." The girls practiced two days a week from November until April and competed at several state and world competitions. In February they traveled to Chicago to compete at the Winterguard International (WGI) Mid-West Regional. They received first place in Scholastic A competition and furthered their season with two first places at the WGI Mid-East Regional and the State Championships. On April 13, 2000, Kaleidoscope competed against 109 winterguards at the WGI Championship in Dayton, after advancing through prelims and semifinals they received a bronze medal with a score of 96.2 in Scholastic A Finals.

There was a different style

After the uniforms were hung up, technically for the last time, a new, more diverse band was formed. Tubas were traded in for bassoons, flags for oboes, and flugabones for trombones. The Concert and Symphonic bands turned from marching drill to rhythmic exercises and exchanged flag routines for delicate, precise marches, along with soul moving suites. The band focused their efforts on concerts, district contest, and the music marathon - which was a musical extravaganza dedicated to helping raise money for new marching band uniforms which would be used in the coming seasons.

Symphonic trombonist Brandon May plays a "G" in third position.

The jazz band trumpets play "Sing ,Sing, Sing" at the Jazz Fest.

Sophomore flute player, Cherylyn Nussbaum, practices measures 28-34 in "Spirituals"

Jazz Band drummer Drew Andreatta puts some bass into the last song.

Choir members learned to sing...

In Rhythm

The Choirs didn't attend any contests, but they had the opportunity to perform in front of some rather large audiences during the annual Christmas Concert the Spring Jazz Fest, and the yearly Barn concert. By singing both separately and as combined groups they were able to entertain their enthusiastic audiences while having an excellent time.

It was a good year for...

The Top Two

NPHS' top two choirs, Ladies Ensemble and the Delphian Chorale, had an excellent year with numerous performances. Both choirs participated in the annual Christmas Concert, Pre-District contest, the District Eight Choir Contest held in Lake, Ohio, and the annual Barn Concert held in May. The Ladies Ensemble presented their annual concert "Ceremony of Carols" in December and in April, the Delphian went to Chicago for their annual Spring Tour.

The School was alive with the...

Sound of Music

The last musical to be produced by NPHS students was in 1990. Little Shop of Horrors" took place at the Front street administration building since the fire had put Welty Auditorium out of commission. JJ Schumacher played Seymour and Audrey was played by Kristen McGarry. Ten years later, director Julie Meinhart and assistant director Tom Morris once again brought music back to the stage. "The Sound of Music" starring Ken Case as the Captain and Abby Jenkins as Maria opened Friday March 31 to a packed house. Because the dedication and motivation from the directors, cast, and crew had been so powerful, the "sound of music" was once again able to fill the school.

The Captain played by Ken Case, shows Maria (Abby Jenkins) how to dance.

Dirk Wallace and Lauren Keffer portray the "odd but charming" Max and Elsa.

Liesl (Christie Graham) and Rolf (Paul Zimmerman) sing "Sixteen going on Seventeen" during Act I.

Mother Abbes (played by Tiffany Lada) tells Maria that she is to be a governess for the Von Trap family.

Zeller, played by Mike Tolan, talks about the captain's social position.

The three nuns help Maria prepare for her wedding.

Liesl and Friedrich (played by Christie Graham and Kyle Snyder) wave "so long farewell…" to the audience.

Win, Lose or....

Draw!!

The art students were very busy between assignments and shows. Many students had some of their work entered in the Governor's Art Show. The students worked very hard on all their work and the community saw the results at the Fine Arts Festival. Some students placed assignments in the show, others put in some special works of their own.

Prom!

Once again the junior class out did themselves transforming the Gym into a heavenly setting suited to fit the theme of "Los in a Dream". Building the prom meant some sleepless nights for many of the juniors as they scrambled to finish decorations. The late spring break hampered some of their efforts with many of the workers out of town.

Hot Time

All dressed in tuxes and gowns from goers endured above 80 degree temperatures while waiting to be introduced. Once inside it was time to strip down as jackets and any extra layers were removed for a long hot night of dancing.

Cedar Point

It was all down hill.

Arriving as the Park opened many students bee lined to the new roller coaster the Millennium Force as others went to old standbys like the Magnum or the Raptor. The rides offered a thrilling combination of fear and excitement. A fitting end for the class of 2000.

First & Last

The class of 2000 has their day.

The last class of one century was the first of the next century. It was a unique situation for a unique class. It all ended on a beautiful day at Quaker Stadium in which due to construction we all faced the opposite way.
